OUR MISSION

To effectively spend lodging tax funds to promote travel and tourism to Teton County, Wyoming, in a manner that is consistent with the shared values of our community.

Our contributions reflect the stewardship of our natural resources, highlight our outstanding assets and amenities, and strive for sustainability.

OUR VISION

As a world leader in responsible tourism, the Jackson Hole Travel & Tourism Board (JHTTB) is dedicated to developing a healthy and vibrant year-round economy that preserves our natural capital and enhances the well-being of our community.

A LETTER FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR

Nestled beneath the shadow of the Tetons, Jackson Hole has always been celebrated for its beauty, wildlife, and outdoor activities that attract visitors from around the world. Recent years have witnessed a surge in tourism, bringing opportunities and challenges to our valley. As stewards of these lands and this community, our seven-member volunteer Board strives to use the power of travel and tourism to enhance the lives of our residents while safeguarding the natural wonders that draw visitors to our doorstep.

As evidenced in these pages, tourism is the backbone of our local economy. The revenue it generates supports our infrastructure, local businesses, and essential services for our residents. In FY23, spanning July 1, 2022, through June 30, 2023, tourism to Teton County generated $1.7 billion in revenue, $10 million in lodging tax funds, and 7,890 tourism-related jobs.

Thanks to these lodging tax funds, FY23 was a milestone year for the JHTTB. To streamline the travel planning and booking process for visitors, the JHTTB worked with local marketing agency TMBR and 35 local writers and photographers to revamp VisitJacksonHole.com and create Industry. VisitJacksonHole.com, destination-wide platforms that serve incoming travelers and local tourism industry professionals. The JHTTB allocated $1.6 million to local events and over $1 million to local partners who enhanced the visitor experience while instilling respectful stewardship and protecting the natural environment. In addition, with support from the Wyoming Office of Tourism’s new Destination Development Program, the JHTTB demonstrated continued commitment to a healthy and sustainable destination by dedicating $600,000 to Wyoming agencies, which will support visitor management and transportation needs in Teton County.

When the JHTTB was initially established in 2011, its primary function was to promote travel and tourism and support a more sustainable year-round economy. As we’ve seen an increase in visitation and a need to address the resulting concerns of our community, in January 2022 the JHTTB began a collaboration with the George Washington University’s International Institute of Tourism Studies along with Confluence Sustainability to develop a comprehensive road map for destination stewardship within Teton County. The culmination of this resident-driven journey, the Teton County Sustainable Destination Management Plan (SDMP), was officially adopted by the JHTTB in January 2023. The SDMP stands as a testament to our dedication to prioritizing the health and well-being of our community, strengthening our economy, enhancing the preservation of our environment, and judicious growth management.

To further facilitate the implementation of the SDMP and to foster an environment of shared responsibility for tourism management, a Destination Stewardship Council was formed in February 2023. This council comprises industry leaders and engaged citizens who have assumed the role of an interim advisory body tasked with furthering progress on SDMP priority actions and goals.

We know we must balance the aspirations and needs of community members, businesses, and visitors with the protection of the public lands that are core to the county’s heritage, culture, and economy. In this FY23 annual report, you’ll find data and reporting on how the JHTTB, together with our partners, is working to ensure Jackson Hole remains as welcoming, and as wild, as ever.

Erik Dombroski

TRAVEL AND TOURISM AT WORK FOR TETON COUNTY

Travel and tourism is Wyoming’s second largest industry. In 2022, Wyoming welcomed over 7.5 million overnight visitors, who spent $4.5 billion in local economies. Visitor spending directly provided $247 million in state tax revenues, which helps fund jobs and public programs. In 2022, a 14.3% increase in statewide travel earnings generated 1,850 additional travel industry jobs and contributed to a 0.7% growth in travel-related tax receipts.

One of Wyoming’s Largest Employers

As one of Wyoming’s largest employers, the travel and tourism industry generated 33,000 jobs across Wyoming in 2022. Travel spending generated $1.2 billion in payroll for tourism industry employees, and travel and tourism supported 7.6% of total employment in Wyoming.

Tourism is the lifeblood of Teton County. It drives the local economy and supports businesses in Jackson while generating tax revenue that funds local infrastructure, events, and visitor management.

In 2022, Teton County welcomed over 1.69 million visitors, generating over $1.65 billion for the local economy directly from travel-related spending.

Visitor spending supports our local businesses, nonprofits, and residents. Visitors reported allocating most of their daily spending to lodging, while local restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues also benefitted immensely from visitor purchases.

Visitors to Jackson Hole also contributed almost $47 million in local lodging tax and local sales tax. Visitor-generated taxes play a huge role in town and county programs like public transportation, public safety, parks and recreation, and more. Without the lodging tax, paid for by visitors, each household in Teton County would have had to pay an additional $7,352.19 in taxes to retain the same level of public services.

From January 1–December 31, 2022, Teton County benefited from travel and tourism through:

LODGING TAX

In the state of Wyoming, a 5% lodging tax is collected on overnight stays at hotels, motels, RV parks, campgrounds, guest ranches, rental properties, and other lodging facilities. 3% is remitted to the state and used to fund the Wyoming Office of Tourism (WOT). The remaining 2% stays in Teton County, with 60% of these funds managed by the JHTTB for destination marketing, tourist education, events, and other tourism-related initiatives as outlined in the Wyoming Statutes. The balance (40%) is managed by the Town of Jackson and Teton County, primarily to mitigate the impacts of tourism on infrastructure and services.

What the Lodging Tax Means for Our Community

In FY23, the JHTTB allocated $1,004,650 to local organizations that used the funds to enhance our unique community character and ensure Jackson remains vibrant, wild, and welcoming for both residents and visitors.

FRIENDS OF THE BRIDGER-TETON

The JHTTB awarded Friends of the Bridger-Teton $750,000 to proactively educate visitors and more carefully manage responsible visitation to the Bridger-Teton National Forest.

JACKSON HOLE NORDIC ALLIANCE

The JHTTB awarded the Jackson Hole Nordic Alliance $95,500 to encourage responsible recreation on trails for Nordic skiing, biking, and snowshoeing in Jackson Hole, Teton Valley, and Grand Teton National Park. As a result of this funding, over 201,000 visitors and locals used well-maintained Nordic trails, and over 900,000 visitors saw responsible trails use messaging and daily trail reports. These efforts showcase Jackson as an international destination for winter Nordic activity.

As a result of these partnerships, the JHTTB supported these results:

ZERO HUMAN-CAUSED WILDFIRES

40 VISITOR VOLUNTEERS PARTICIPATED

KHOL

The JHTTB awarded KHOL, Jackson’s community radio station, $75,000 to expand its newsroom and serve as a resource to educate visitors traveling to the area. As a result of this funding, 15,600 broadcasts educated and inspired over 90,000 visitors and locals.

JACKSON HOLE WILDLIFE FOUNDATION — BEING WILD JACKSON HOLE

The JHTTB awarded the Jackson Hole Wildlife Foundation $84,150 to enhance the Being Wild Jackson Hole campaign to strengthen visitor bonds to wildlife conservation. As a result of JHTTB funding, over 5,000 visitors received wildlife safety messaging, more than 400 educational bear spray holsters were distributed, and 40 visitors engaged in “pitch in to protect” volunteer projects.

ZERO HABITUATED BEARS

15,600 BROADCASTS EDUCATED 90,000 LISTENERS

In January 2023, the JHTTB was awarded $600,000 from the WOT’s Destination Development Program. These funds, earmarked by WOT to help Wyoming destinations develop their communities to have the capacity to leverage the visitor economy, were allocated by the JHTTB to Wyoming agencies advancing the work of the SDMP. Through this funding, partnerships with the University of Wyoming’s Wyoming Outdoor Recreation, Tourism, and Hospitality (WORTH) Initiative and the Teton County Regional Transportation Planning Division are supporting tourism management, data collection, and transportation needs in Teton County.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING’S WORTH INITIATIVE TOURISM DASHBOARD

The JHTTB allocated $513,129 of Destination Development Program funds to the University of Wyoming’s WORTH Initiative to build a comprehensive tourism dashboard for Teton County. Over the course of two years, WORTH will collect data on visitor use, visitor and resident sentiment, and visitation impacts, ultimately developing an industry-leading tourism dashboard that’s regularly updated and accessible to the entire community.

TETON COUNTY REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION PLANNING DIVISION’S MOBILITY HUB STUDY

The JHTTB allocated $86,000 of Destination Development Program funds to the Teton County Regional Transportation Planning Division to conduct a mobility hub study to better understand and manage visitor movements. The mobility hub study and mobility hub action plan, which will be developed by June 2024, will identify areas of transportation congestion, prioritize best practices and mobility management strategies that may be most successful in Jackson, and develop a mobility hub concept design. This will have long-term, positive impacts on affordable transportation throughout the county.

VISITOR MANAGEMENT

Together with businesses, government agencies, and the community, we are creating a sustainable place to live, play and visit.

A Leader in Sustainable Tourism

In 2011, the JHTTB was established to market and promote Jackson Hole as a destination to support a vibrant year-round economy. As the region has continued to see increased tourism each year, the community has also felt the effects of tourism on infrastructure and services, and visitors have noticed an impact on quality of experience during their stay. The JHTTB recognized the importance of expanding its scope beyond traditional marketing efforts into visitor management, including emphasizing visitor education and destination stewardship.

In a pivotal step toward formalizing the commitment to more effectively manage tourism in the Tetons, the JHTTB worked with over 1,800 community members and industry stakeholders to develop the Sustainable Destination Management Plan (SDMP). After the JHTTB formally adopted the plan in January 2023, the Destination

Stewardship Council (DSC) was created to facilitate the implementation of the SDMP and to make further progress on the goals and action items in it. Thanks to these efforts and continued action from the community, Jackson is making strides in finding balance between quality of life for residents, visitor experience and sentiment, and protection of our public lands.

Sustainable destinations boast healthy economies, proactive infrastructure and public facilities, strong community ties, ecosystem protection, and respectful bonds between visitors and locals working toward shared goals. Research shows that destinations that see the value in responsible visitation and have clear plans to harness the power of tourism not only showcase healthier community systems and longevity of their residents, but they also attract conscious travelers who better support the economy and nourish the environment.

Sustainable Destination Management Plan (SDMP)

SDMP: A guiding document with goals, strategies, and metrics that help better anticipate and respond to the dynamic nature of the tourism industry and how it contributes to the health and well-being of our community.

After an 18-month process, the JHTTB proudly released the SDMP in January 2023. This 75-page document is a road map with clear directions, milestones, actions, assignments, and success metrics designed to guide the continued evolution and health of Teton County's largest economic engine: tourism.

Thank you to the George Washington University, Confluence Sustainability, the SDMP steering committee, and, above all, the Jackson Hole community, without which this project would not have been possible.

Destination Stewardship Council (DSC)

DSC: An interim group of tourism stakeholders tasked with implementing SDMP initiatives while a destination explores the creation of a long-term governance structure (SDMP goal 8).

After the adoption of the SDMP, the JHTTB continued to move forward with supporting and, when appropriate, implementing priority actions recommended in the plan. The DSC was formed in February 2023 with a group of tourism stakeholders from the community who are utilizing an all-hands approach to build on the SDMP framework. In FY23, the DSC began addressing 18 year-one priority action items, working toward the eight stewardship goals identified in the SDMP.

Event Funding for the Community

Event funding from the JHTTB goes directly back into the community and often generates high lodging tax revenues for local lodging partners. In FY23, the $1,364,000 allocated to events generated an estimated $9.3 million in lodging spend by event attendees, an over $6 to $1 return on investment. In addition, event attendees spent an estimated $1.9 million on local dining, shopping, activities, and more.

Beyond the economic benefits, support from the JHTTB often makes smaller community character events possible. For visitors, these events expand offerings, activities, and attractions during their stay. For the community, these events support local organizations doing important work in Teton County and provide residents with community-oriented amenities throughout the year.
